Introduction to Chancellor David Banks

Mr. Banks takes the floor to address the group. Thank you to everyone. I look forward to being able to meet you all in an in-person meeting so that I can see everyone's face outside of the Zoom squares. Introduction to who I am, I am a Brooklyn kid. My dad was in the NYPD for 27 years. My brother is Keith Banks, NYPD Deputy Mayor of Public Safety. Know that the present times are difficult for us all and what we are dealing with is not easy. Educators, we are getting closer to the tide.

The Mayor wants to keep schools open because they are safe. We would love to hear the parents' voice We do not want to be a system to just shut down. Remote may be an option but not a total shutdown. The Covid Risk # are low in the schools. No discussions will be made without the voice of the parents. CPAC will be very special to me and I will build that relationship. Love and respect families and parents of the community. I will Always show respect to the best decisions after hearing from all parties. Working together to create solutions that's how I like to move, showing and receiving respect.
